A Spicy Letter

AMUSING GOSSIP FROM WASHINGTON—THE POLITICAL CONCLUSION.

(Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17, 1868.

At noon on Friday the flags over the House and Senate ran up. For three minutes they dipped and fell. This signified that Mr Johnson had ceased his annoyance of Congress, and, therefore, that Congress had dispensed with its pro-[illegible] session.

SCENE IN CONGRESS.

The appearance of either House was informal in the extreme, the carpet up, a waste of canton matting sweeping around the semicircular platform, no desks nor chairs save where, in the middle, a member or two sat, like the celebrated society of the last man; Speaker and President rapped up the echoes, the Chaplains prayed to desolateness, then the sessions closed abruptly and were terminated with a little buzz of congratulation.

"Colfax! You've got 'em now."

"Yes! It's all right. But this is no surprise. I expected nothing else. Who are they going to take up now?"

"Ben Hickman!"

"John Allen!"

"Shuckers, Chase's secretary!"

Mr. Wade—"The Democrats won't vote this year!"

"They'll save their credit then!"

Mr. Wade smokes an expired cigar, the identical cabbage he has had in his possession since the beginning of the impeachment trial.

Then the two or three Senators and members get into knots, and discuss with the few outsiders who have crowded in, the possible complexion of Grant's Cabinet.

"Who for the State Department?"

"Stanton is most formidable. Some of the papers say Motley, but he wants to be President of Harvard. You can never get a literary man away from his books. Sumner would like it, but he is going to try for the English mission."

"There's mighty few men now in the party capable of filling either the State or Treasury Departments."

"Oh! There's a dozen confident of the Treasury: Morton, Fenton, Morgan, John Sherman, Jay Cooke, A. T. Stewart."

"Morton's too sickly."

"Fenton won't inspire confidence."

"John Sherman was slippery when Pendleton sprung his greenback issue."

"Morgan's making his fight for Senator."

"Jay Cooke has too much business with his treasury department; but he's a mighty active man."

"Stewart wouldn't take it."

"They say Dawes, of Massachusetts, is sure of being Postmaster General."

"Grow, of Pennsylvania wants the place or the interior. Greeley thinks he deserves it. John Defrees is not after the place, but I hear of him being named."

"How would Bob Schenck do in the Treasury?"

"He's too useful on the floor."

"Who is named for the Navy?"

"Porter, principally. Some say Farragut. But there'll be a pressure on Grant to put civilians in both the War and Navy Departments. John A. Griswold, if beaten for Governor, might be formidable. Then there is Pike, of Maine, and Mr. King, of Rhode Island."

"How's War Department talk?"

"Washburne, Schofield, Jno. A. Rawlins, Wilson, of Massachusetts, John Logan and Garfield are up."

"Jim Wilson, Shellabarger and Evarts are called over for the Attorney Generalship."

In this way the topics of the future are put under rapid resume.

THE DEMOCRATIC PANIC.

Such a state of demoralization as the Democrats are under, was never before known in political history. Now the rebels who attended the New York Convention receive curses loud and deep, and by none are they so denounced as by ex rebels and Democratic politicians of Virginia and the South living here. Rosecrans is in town, showing more of his weak suggestiveness in politics, and the Blairs, who were sure of an ascendancy beyond the previous history of their family, show confidence and demoralization in about equal degrees. Frank Blair is urged to write another letter, but old Frank says he shan't, and Montgomery accuses the New York World of being a guerrilla concern, run by semi-Republicans and mercenaries. The great regret is Chase. The small regret is Hancock. The medium regret is Dix. "With those," they say, "we could have carried Pennsylvania and Indiana, where the vote is as close as despair."

The confusion that has overcome the Democracy is a good deal like that described in the first book of Paradise Lost, where Belial pitches into Moloch, and the celebrated conclave rings with rage and is hollow with impotence.

Almost all the Democrats of Washington are dead drunk, and some of them will not recover until after the election. Fears are entertained that the whole responsible part of the party will starve out before Grant's term expires. Chase has no ambition to be put in the forlorn hope and used like a supernumerary actor in place of the "star." Like Nero he gave a fiddling supper on the night after the election, and is gratified to find that the Pendletonian platform has become a grave and a gallows to its builders. Brick Pomeroy has changed his paper into a morning issue, so that he can disappear with it before the people are up someday.

Judge Woodward is reported to have said, in Philadelphia, yesterday:

"If you would take a calf, and burn the blue light of this war behind him, you could elect him."

Mr. Seward denies his marriage, but says he is very cheerful, while Mr. Johnson at last despairs of his country.

A SILVER TICKET.

Mr. Seward is a luxurious "dead-head." He has a free ticket engraved on silver, by which he travels over the Erie railway. This is a life pass, given him at the expiration of his term as Governor of New York, because of his interest in the internal improvements of the State. He offers silver for his fare and the conductors do not collect.

Seward is a luxurious character any way, and in many other respects. If he travels anywhere he wants a whole ship. He buys seven millions' worth of manifest destiny for a morning's shopping, and gives Clarence or any old "chum" a messengership to England, or Turkey, or India, if they wish to go over to the Bal Mabille. Nothing short of a locomotive and a drawing-room car will keep dignity with his silver ticket. At the Government printing office he has a staff of sworn printers, who set up his diplomatic copy, and spare his eyes the pain of reading manuscript. A prince of the blood is he. Marshal Murray says that he gets the real Oporto vintages, and that his Burgundy has come straight from the vaults of Beauve or Dijon. Here he finds flavor and cheerfulness for all those Mark Tapley speeches and dispatches, which used to assure us that we were happy and that he would look out for us. Certainly no man in the Government has a softer thing than Mr. Seward, and I often think with admiration, when Payne or Powell stabbed the Secretary, how admirable were his tactics in dropping off the bed, rolling under it and curling himself up like a racoon or a hedge hog. In playing possum he is a genius. With a broken jaw he yet continued to use his quill, and we have never heard a moan out of him from that day to this. Johnson tried to rope in Seward's dislocated jaw on his Douglas trip, as a political argument, but the Secretary talked so much that the people saw it would get well before he was twice married. Personally, Mr. Seward makes no reference to his escape from assassination. He says that Payne was an unmannerly fellow, but he asked that the latter's life be spared, for Seward would have wished to give the fellow a good dinner, warm him up with a pint of asti, and philosophize with him upon the idiosyncracy of breaking a great statesman's cranium. The egotism of Seward is delightful. He can show you his finger prints in every monument of the State. Get him down to a good square talk about himself, and he will magnify himself, by his misty generalizations, like a windmill in a fog. Altogether, he is Epicurus come again. Only tender partridges disappear from his plate. There is a poem of Tennyson which is a very little like him, referring, I believe to a man who said the earth was beautiful, and "with a lack luster, dead blue eye revolved his rounded periods."

GEN. JAMES WATSON WEBB.

One of Seward's oldest friends, a gentleman singularly like him in appetites and refinements, is James Watson Webb, Seward's minister to Brazil. He is the bravest piece of modern chivalry that ever lived out of a slave State. Fighting and writing are equally agreeable to him. He was shot in the knee by T. F. Marshall, at Wilmington, Delaware, in the month of June 1842, and it being contrary to the laws of New York to send or accept a challenge, Webb was committed to prison for two years. Mr. Seward was at that time Governor, and he had expressed himself strongly against dueling and in favor of punishing its abettors, but Webb had been his oracle. He went back on the principle, and pardoned the General forthwith, for which he laid himself open to great censure.

Webb was the original challenger of poor Cilley, who Graves afterward killed at Marlboro, near this city, and while Cilley was standing up against destiny, Webb and his posse were hunting him up with rifles to force him to try another shot with a fresh man.

Beyond this bad episode and a good deal of characteristic wrangling, street fighting, etc., Webb is a splendid piece of quixotism. He mashed the scalp of James G. Bennett most dreadfully once, following him into a broker's shop, where Bennett fell on his knees and begged to be spared. The General caned him with a dignified equanimity, and apologized with the toe of his boot. Mr. Bennett, who is the most enterprising reporter in either hemisphere, stopped, on the way to a pump, to write a description of the outrage, and it was an episode in the early history of the Herald, as everybody who wanted to "lick" Bennett, bought a copy, and this immediately trabled the circulation.

General Webb, being a high liver, has not accumulated a great deal of money, but he is the most luxuriously ducal journalist that exists. At Rio Janeiro, I am told, he sets a sumptuous table, displays a hospitality that takes your breath, light such cigarrs as Mohammed in Heaven keeps for his private smoking, and makes you feel as if you were to come to the alabaster lamps of the prince of Como, who gives away gold snuff boxes as if they were confederate money. As a husband, General Webb is married to a sweet little lady, and though a sexagenarian his family increases, annually, and every princely scion is more beautiful than the last. As a diplomat he is as firm as a rock, considers the army of the United States as his private six shooter, and the navy thereof as his ducking gun. King Pedro hears him come as Louis XI heard the iron-shod foot of Nemours. In person he is stately and portly together, florid and benignant of face, with beautifully luxuriant white hair, and in all his impossibility of temperament you recognize the type of Gaston de Foix, a man in mail, restive under law, a Wallenstien among soldiers, and a Lamartine among authors; without a purse, but with a sword and a head.

BENNETT DRAWING A FILE.

An acquaintance of mine, being at Fort Washington, heard the alarm of fire the other night, and running after the steam engines, found himself at the celebrated villa of Mr. Bennett. He naturally turned all his attention upon the distinguished journalist, and finally discovered him in his lean shanks and eyes athwart, saving the files of the precious Herald.

"Mon," he said, "where be voloom sex? Brung me voloom sex, or be be ruined!"

"Father," said young James, "put on your breeches, or you'll have the rheumatism!"

"James," cried Mr. Bennett, "dom the whole house besides! Ah want ma files. Af ah don't gat voloom sex ah'll die in the flames wi' a brauken heart!"

Pains were instantly taken to find volume six, with success. It was generally believed that Mr. Bennett thought if those files should be consumed the devil would get them and try him by them on some future day. But, tried by the same files, mankind will accredit their editor with more enterprise than license. He is the founder of our news system, and his example as a gatherer and expediter of intelligence will probably survive his own journal.

THE BOY SPEAKER.

I was riding hither from Philadelphia, the other day, when I saw upon the train Willie Todd, Speaker Colfax's messenger. Of him I took occasion to inquire into the person and history of Thaddy Morris, who had been page to Speaker Pennington in 1859, and virtual speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Pennington was a delightful old gentleman, ignorant of parliamentary practice, and he was elected by a compromise between the adherents of Sherman and Marshall, of Kentucky. Placed in his embarrassing chair, he found the great dog pit of the house barking, like Cerberus, under him, and took every ruling point and suggestion from Thaddeus most gratefully.

Once, it is related, when young Morris had prepared everything snugly for Pennington, outlined the order of business, prompted him completely, and left the course "straight as the crow flies," so that a wayfaring man, though a fool, need not go astray, and he said to the speaker: "Now, go on."

"Now, go on!" cried Pennington promptly, to the House; at which there was huge laughter.

It was an inspiring thing to see that delicate boy, secreted in the pinnacle of the nation, like Paul Revere's friend in the old south church spire, supplying knowledge to the gray beard who has the honor without the skill of governing. There is many a boy, unseen, at the elbows of statesmen—little fellows of downy chins, whose heads are as long as a sum at compound interest.

The average of the soldiers of the federal army in the war, was from twenty three to twenty-six years—too young to be eligible to Congress, not too young to straighten up the line of battle, and rise to eminence like Buford's, Hatch's Chamberlain's and Cushing's. SWEDE.

HEAVY BETTING IN SAN FRANCISCO.—Election betting was never carried on to as great an extent as it has been this year. A friend writes us that in San Francisco it seems as though every man had something bet on the result of the election. Crowley's election sent at least $200,000 from Democratic into Union hands. On the State, gamblers in particular, were insulting in their ardor to get bets of three to one on Seymour. At the Cosmopolitan Hotel $175,000 were bet between 3 P. M. and midnight on the 3d—much of it two to one. The best joke on the Democracy is that three or four hundred of them procured a fife and drum and paraded the streets in honor of Cannavan's election (?)—betting their money freely. This they continued for nearly two hours after Crowley and his friends knew he (Crowley) was elected. The writer says, "You never saw such a despondent set as the Democracy are to-day (5th). They have bet nearly a million dollars on the State going for Seymour, and many are utterly ruined. There never was anything like it here or elsewhere. On the Market street railroad the men bet everything they had on Cannavan's election, on the judgment of Agnew, the superintendent. The 'black and tans,' as we were stigmatized on election day, are indulging in broad grins now. Next year we will carry this city, certain.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.—Great exertions are made to complete the Pacific Railroad. Durant, the constructor of the Union Pacific, says that only God Almighty can prevent its reaching Salt Lake Valley this winter. There has been some snow on the road, but the weather has not yet interfered with the progress of construction. The company has published a pamphlet, giving statements concerning the progress of the road. It states that 914 miles west of Omaha were contracted for at an average rate of $68,0[illegible]5 per mile, including all necessary car shops, depots, stations, and other incidental buildings, also locomotive, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other necessary rolling stock, to an amount not to be less than $7,500 per mile. The cost of the 914 miles west from Omaha is put down at something over $62,000,000, and the capital stock now paid in, independent of the Government aid, is stated at $13,213,800.

The Democracy used to exclaim, "No North, no South, no East, no West." The North, South, East and West now reciprocate the compliment by the emphatic declaration, "No Democracy!"

A paper mill in which was manufactured paper used by Benjamin Franklin, in his office, is still in operation in Delaware county, Pa. It is named the "Ivy Mill," and was erected as long ago as the year 1773.

Chang and Eng.

PERFECT FEASIBILITY OF THE SEPARATION.

[From the Louisville Medical Journal.]

Our newspaper editors are again speculating and writing romantic articles on the above question, incited by the assertion that M[illegible] Chang and Eng are about visiting Paris to find a surgeon bold enough to undertake th[illegible] separation. The whole movement is but another evidence of the lamentable ignorance of the public in medical matters, and of the prurient delight which the world always [illegible] in wrapping everything connected with the human system in the grossest mystery. There never has been a question among medical men, either in this country or in Europe, in regard to the feasibility of the [illegible] of these two individuals; that they are two beings, having distinct, segregated and perfect organizations, one from the other, as any other two individuals; that there is no physical, moral or mental unity between them, the only connection being a short carti[illegible] and integumental band common to the [illegible] the severance of which would, in all [illegible] bility, be entirely harml[illegible] that no [illegible] nervous impr[illegible]ions, phy[illegible] tal or nervo-mental c[illegible] a "mental unity in their [illegible] istence;" that they have no unity of [illegible] tions, impulses, thoughts, etc.; that it [illegible] was the professional opinion that the [illegible] of one of the breth[illegible] would [illegible] be followed by that of the other, or that th[illegible] aration was surrounded by fearful [illegible] and that the link now binding them [illegible] is not a means of perfect physical [illegible] by which the sensation or [illegible] are [illegible] veyed from one to another. There is, in [illegible] nothing more common between the [illegible] than what would have been acqui[illegible] by any other twins indissolubly united by a [illegible] or metallic cord, and subj[illegible] ever been, to precisely similar ci[illegible] from birth. Indeed, the band uniting [illegible] almost insensible, so much so th[illegible] board, they were pulled about by a [illegible] to it. No pulsating vessel has ever [illegible] detected in it, though, undoubtedly, it is just here and nowhere else, in the ce[illegible] of this cord, made up the gristle and skin and for about an inch on each side, and th[illegible] vessels and nerves communicating fr[illegible] to another. Here, but nowhere else, a [illegible] on the space indicated is felt by both. Precisely here, and here alone in the band [illegible] ing them, there is a sensation, and [illegible] else whatever common to both. If [illegible] inclined to sleep, etc., etc., and perf[illegible] the functions of life with great similarity, [illegible] agree always in their [illegible] and [illegible] we must recollect that their surroun[illegible] tion, etc., have all been precisely alike. [illegible] ple forget, too, that one of them is the [illegible] stronger and more intelligent, and he [illegible] trols the other. His slightest mov[illegible] is followed by the weaker one from [illegible] and not, as it is generally sup[illegible] unity of will or harmonious action. Th[illegible] play games one against the other, and [illegible] quarreled just like other good b[illegible] more than once. While at sea, one [illegible] to take a cold bath, to which the o[illegible] ed, and the Captain had to interfere to [illegible] duce a reconciliation. How ab[illegible] talk of perfect consentaneous thoug[illegible] etc., between them.

This decision given by the [illegible] Europe and America, thirty [illegible] when this case was first put on [illegible] was that the ligament of union was [illegible] ginous, probably a prolongation of the [illegible] form cartilage from the [illegible] and [illegible] if not the only, objection to his div[illegible] has been that the peritoneum might be [illegible] in the operation. It was moreover, not [illegible] demanded by surgery, for the twins had [illegible] and might yet live, for y[illegible]; the q[illegible] of separation, therefore, was with [illegible] their guardians, and not the pro[illegible] There were no discrepan[illegible] no [illegible] among the doctors on this subject. The [illegible] was involved in no mystery, and the [illegible] was easily made; the London [illegible] even declared that it was [illegible] a rare [illegible] ons. By the ecraseur or knife, any [illegible] who has attended a course of lectu[illegible] perform this operation with [illegible] which, moreover, should be [illegible] by any one in case of death, [illegible] divide the parts nearer the one [illegible] would appear, then, that there are no [illegible] reasons why these naturalized A[illegible] have been permitted to violate the [illegible] commandment, by common co[illegible] even a rebuke.

As there exists no academy of ph[illegible] and surgeons in Paris, the Siam[illegible] be on a wild goose chase, which their family physician might have prevented, as well as the wild and fanciful speculations re[illegible] them which are now crowding our daily papers. The scientific world, too, [illegible] those engaged in the study of [illegible] and surgery, as the press is kind enough to [illegible] may not, therefore, be "in[illegible]ly [illegible] after all, and the public may be [illegible] direct their attention to [illegible]thing more important and better understood than the contemplated separation of Chang and Eng.

The total vote of Illinois four years ago was 348,196. At the late election something over 450,000 votes were cast, being an increase of [illegible] than 100,000. The census of 1870 will place Illinois "neck and girth" alongside of Ohio, which in 1860 outnumbered her 750,000 inhabitants.

The cod fisheries this year are reported to have failed. The New England fishermen complain that they have not been very succ[illegible] this season, in making large catches; and it is stated that the Leith and New Haven fishermen on the east coast of Scotland, deplore the great scarcity of cod, haddock and other fish, the catching of which has been their main stay. French advices report that the French fisheries off Newfoundland are exhausted. Instead of averaging 160,000 cod, vessels fail to average 20,000 this season, and masters are withdrawing the ships.

Listening to Emerson is said to recall a story related of him and Theodore Parker. A confident Millerite, meeting Parker just as he was leaving Emerson's house, said to him: "Friend, do you know that the world is coming to an end next week?" Parker replied, "Oh! that don't concern me, I live in Boston." Passing on he saw Emerson and asked him the same question. Emerson's answer was, "Well, let it come to an end; we can get along full as well without it."

A story is going the rounds of the English press, under the head of "Lamentable Ignorance," to the effect that a little girl, ten years old, examined at an inquest on the body of her father, could not tell where little girls went who told lies. This leads a correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette to relate of the late Judge Maule, that having asked a little girl tendered as a witness if she knew where she would go after death if she told a lie, and the child replying "No, sir," the Judge was overheard to mutter to himself, "No more do I."

The Growth of the State

The list by counties of the value of property in Oregon for the purposes of taxation for the year 1867 which is furnished in the report of the Secretary of State gives a total footing of $25,893 469 This is an increase of $533,157 over the assessment roll of 1866 There is every reason to believe that the increase for the present year is much greater than this, though we have seen no statement of the aggregate assessment of 1868 In Multnomah county for instance the assessment of 1867 was $5 006 350, while that of 1868 is nearly half a million dollars larger It would perhaps be too much to suppose that the same proportionate increase is observed in all the counties, but there is every reason to think that it is considerable in nearly all of them. It is not probable that assessments [illegible] out the State will average more than [illegible] to fifty per cent of actual market values In view of increase of population the extensive internal improvements and the increased value of property especially of lands [illegible], the actual wealth of the [illegible] at this time be less than sixty to [illegible] million dollars.

It [illegible] seem a curious thing, but it is a [illegible] eight or ten years ago the assessment of the property of the State was nearly as [illegible] as it was last year Every person knows that property in that time increased [illegible] both in amount and value What then is the explanation of this apparently slow [illegible] It appears to us that there are two [illegible]. In the first place property some years [illegible] at rates much nearer its value than at present, and secondly, [illegible] now allowed to be deducted from [illegible]. There are evidences everywhere [illegible] the property of the State has fully [illegible] during the last ten years The fact [illegible] the list of assessments by counties [illegible] an increase of only about half a million [illegible] from 1860 to 1867, is proof that [illegible] can be placed on these figures [illegible] the actual wealth of the State [illegible] the last ten years the population of [illegible] has fully doubled One proof of [illegible] found in the fact that the number of [illegible] in the State is now twice as large as [illegible] And the voters are now [illegible] proportion of the whole population than Ten years ago almost [illegible] had been done in the way of internal [illegible]; now we are marching along [illegible] in the career of development The [illegible] from obvious facts is that the as[illegible] except in a very few counties [illegible] no index of the real growth of the [illegible] Our growth is rapid, that is certain [illegible] should not know it merely by an in[illegible] of the assessments and a summing [illegible] for the State

The Defenders of Labor

[illegible] Democratic paper says [illegible] Woods, of Oregon, vetoed the bill [illegible] the Democrats in the Legislature of [illegible] Chinamen He is a genuine [illegible] feels it to be his duty [illegible] moon-eyed pets." Governor [illegible] bill because he felt it to be [illegible] an act which every intelli[illegible] every party knows was in violation of the Constitutions of this State and [illegible], a blow at the treaty-making [illegible] of the country, an injury to the industries and a measure which was and [illegible] ible on any principle of [illegible] common sense. This Chinese [illegible] fruitful theme for shallow politicians who are too lazy to work and who en[illegible] themselves at the expense [illegible] of whites by assuming to [illegible] and defenders of labor The [illegible] Union, in a late article, treats this [illegible] that we must transfer a portion [illegible] to our columns

[illegible] Democratic demagogy on this subject [illegible]. When the ranters of that [illegible] nothing else to rant about they turn [illegible] on John Chinaman. Poor John! [illegible] of their anxiety about his [illegible]. While Democrats in good and [illegible] are partaking of their midnight [illegible] their proud length in the [illegible] may be seen working patiently and [illegible] at his clothes-wringing, and droning [illegible] songs of his far off home, which [illegible] that, instead of aspiring to the [illegible] of an American citizen, he is in great [illegible] make his little fortune and return Not [illegible] delights of Democratic electioneering does [illegible], but of basking once more upon the [illegible] and gliding over the yellow waters of the Hoang-ho or Kiang Ku If the Demo[illegible] were half as industrious or a fourth [illegible] ble to the public, they would find [illegible] to talk about than Chinese suf[illegible] and something more ennobling to do than [illegible] on vicious and vulgar idlers upon this [illegible] and busy class of foreigners For not [illegible] with exciting the apprehensions of their [illegible] dupes about Chinese suffrage, these [illegible] say further that Chinese labor is an [illegible] to us, and crowds out Americans Of [illegible] nobody sees the force of this so strongly as the loafer who goes about with his hands in his [illegible] doing nothing Having nothing else to [illegible] his attention he gives his whole mind [illegible] to this subject, and sees very clearly [illegible] Chinamen are competing [illegible] labor! His labor, forsooth! Yes, and [illegible] usefulness and his Christianity, for [illegible] puts shame his professions in all three re[illegible]. We have never yet seen a real working [illegible] found himself crowded by an inferior [illegible]. When Americans come in contact with such, they find it marvelously handy to give [illegible] the big end of the log and take the light [illegible] ever saw a class of laborers submit [illegible] arrangement as does John Chinaman [illegible] only serves to relieve Americans of the drudgery and open for them the higher pursuits of industry If John is content with this why should Jonathan complain He does not [illegible] He likes the arrangement decidedly [illegible] our workers but our idlers that feel [illegible]. It is not our business men or laborers but our politicians who feel distressed or at least [illegible] to be in pangs about this matter If our [illegible] had a little less leisure if they were [illegible] with some of the thoughts and the [illegible] that "make two blades of grass grow where one grew before," they too would be at [illegible] on this subject. They would not be continually looking about for something to victimize but for something to help as they would like to be helped. Trying to live honestly themselves they [illegible] respect and aid all, however humble who try to live honestly They might be able to see, then, that if John Chinaman chooses to work cheaply, he surely is not to be blamed for it, and if his cheap labor is a damage to us his employers are the ones to be convinced of that fact Do Democrats, any less than Republicans hire Chinese labor? Are not the demagogues as well as others, ready to avail themselves of it? Lay [illegible] blame where it belongs Do not direct the vile prejudice and passion of the unthinking upon your own innocent drudge [illegible] howling against the dead and buried ghost of Chinese suffrage which serves only to excite an unreasoning and cruel animosity for you know that no party can or cares to increase the difficulties under which popular government in America already struggles Certainly Republicans do not wish to do it by adding to our very large excess of Democratic ignorance vice and stupidity a class of heathen foreigners who can neither read, write nor speak our language and whose religious ideas seem to be superior only to those of the men who so persistently and uselessly denounce them

The mild manner in which Seymour's friends term the rebellion a "grave error" is susceptible of an interpretation they little suspect If 300,[illegible] can contribute any force to their hypocritical remarks, they are welcome to count the last one of them

DATES TO NOVEMBER 30.

More of the Eight Hour Law Humbug

NEW YORK, Nov 30—Attorney General Evarts has forwarded to the President his opinion on the operation of the eight hour law in regard to the compensation of employes He says the law being silent on the subject the officers of the government officials are at liberty to use their discretion in the matter but the law of equality which has heretofore regulated the wages of the government employes requires that they shall receive the same compensation for their labor as paid in private establishments in the vicinity The law of 1868 does not fix wages nor does it require the government to pay ten hours wages for eight hours work If the citizens have adopted such course the government should do the same but as the law now stands it is left to the spirit of the government officials to pay the same wages as when the men worked ten hours or reduce the compensation in proportion to the reduction of the hour of labor

DISMISSED —As we anticipated and predicted some time ago, Beriah Brown has been dismissed from the editorial chair of the Herald We mention the matter only to make one remark about it It is gratifying to observe that the man who came here two or three years ago with an immense idea of his own importance, who was going to bestride all Oregon like a Colossus while the little men of this sluggish State were to stoop at his feet to find dishonorable graves who has assumed to possess all wisdom and knowledge and who has addressed the people of Oregon as a superior being would talk to ignorant underlings—it is gratifying to know that such an individual has discovered his mistake and found that the people of Oregon are too intelligent and high-minded to tolerate his supercilious vanity and drivelling imbecility He was rapidly breaking down the Herald, as he had before broken down every paper he had been employed upon, and at last he is dismissed for incompetency We have felt obliged to say this much, but had his pretensions been less and his course more modest, we should on the occasion of his fall have strictly observed the old maxim De mortuis nil nisi bonum

The Crow Indians

John W Powell, who has been taking the census of the Crow Indians has furnished the following interesting news to the Montana Democrat of Nov 7th

I left Fort Ellis Sunday October 18 1868 in company with Pierre Chiene and one Bannack Indian and reached the Crow camp situated on one of the north forks of the Muscleshell near the foot of Judith Mountain on the sixth day thereafter The Crow tribe is camped in 220 lodges under the charge of 'Show His Face' head chief I found them in a great state of excitement owing to several marauding expeditions of the Blackfeet and Sioux the former of whom in the course of three several nights had succeeded in stealing over a hundred head of horses This occurred during my stay with them About four days before my arrival an engagement had taken place between them and a small body of Sioux six in number five of whom were killed and the remaining one sent to the Sioux camp in order to let them know the fate of the balance A Blackfoot was also killed by them the day before my arrival

On the second day after reaching their camp I called the head men together and explained to them the object of taking the census and also delivered the messages from their Great Father The next day I proceeded to take the census with the following result, which was arrived at after several days' labor Men, 520 women 7[illegible] boys 49[illegible] girls 339 total 1[illegible]

I found them in great want of blankets clothing and ammunition They seemed to be perfectly satisfied with the treaty and desirous of maintaining it in all its relations As a proof of their good intentions they delivered over to me nine head of horses which had been stolen from the whites These I brought to Bozeman City Gallatin county, and left them with D F Rouse, subject to the reclamation of owners on proving property

In his official report he says

The Crows charged me especially to request their Great Father not to send them any gray blankets as they preferred either white or red According to the terms of the treaty the Government reserved to this tribe several mining districts situated on tributaries of the Yellowstone embraced among which is the well known "Emigrant Gulch" In order to avoid difficulties with their white brethren and preserve harmony, the Crows have agreed to sell, and bade me report to you that they would dispose of to the Government, all that portion of the country on the east side of the Yellowstone embracing as near as could be ascertained, a distance of 200 miles As the removal of the whites from these districts would prove expensive to Government (many of them having extensive and valuable claims,) I would most respectfully suggest the propriety of adopting suitable measures for the purchase of the same

STATE ITEMS

In the opinion of the Eugene Journal, "the OREGONIAN is the best paper published on the North Pacific coast"

The Journal deplores the fact that the people of Eugene did not observe Thanksgiving Day as they should have done

An effort is being made by interested parties to have Postmaster Johnson, at Eugene, removed A remonstrance is circulated against it

Two horses, which were stolen recently from Messrs Gager and Warner, of Lane county, were recovered last week near Roseburg The thieves were some Rogue river Indians, who made their escape

The Yreka Journal says the Goose Lake country in the borders of Oregon, is fast settling up, and good prospects for gold mining are reported about the headquarters of Sprague river

The Albany paper says Willie Webber, a young son of Mr Webber, of this city, had the misfortune to break one of his legs last Wednesday, while attempting to walk on a pair of high stilts But this will not prevent other boys from walking on stilts Some would attempt it even if quite certain they would thereby break their necks

The Unionist says Robert Hutchinson, well known in Southern Oregon, has taken sixteen hundred head of cattle from Umpqua valley to Sacramento valley, by way of Link river and lower Klamath Lake He intends to winter them near the old Major Reading ranch, and market them in San Francisco next spring

A man named Isaac Cornelius, was arrested Friday night last about about six miles south of Salem, charged with horse stealing He was lodged in jail to await the action of grand jury, now in session It is believed by some, says the Unionist that this man is one of a gang that are organized for committing thefts of all kinds

Of the Snake Indians, once powerful in Eastern Oregon, Idaho and Nevada, the Salem paper says The tribe has diminished fearfully since 1861 In that year it was estimated by competent judges at 10 000 souls Now, there are not more than 1,500, or, at most, 2 000 alive War, starvation and pestilence, have nearly annihilated them They succumb to inevitable necessity, and yield scornfully and proudly that which they cannot longer retain Their race is run! Once, powerful, self reliant and brave, they owned, occupied and controlled the territory from the great water on the East, to the Cascade mountains on the West, from the Gila of the South, to the Fraser river of British Columbia They were nomadic monarchs, whose title, though often viewed with jealous eye, was never contested They reigned supreme

AN ERA OF GOOD FEELING—Democrats have been fond of talking about an era of good feeling Now is the time to have it Let Democrats acquiesce in the principles on which the Republicans won in the late contest Here for instance, is the Congressional plan of reconstruction If the Democracy are sincere in their expressions for peace and order and substantial accord, among all the people, they must accept in good faith this plan of reconstruction, must cease all their opposition to it and urge upon their political friends in the South a like hearty acquiescence This question was the main one at issue The people have decided in favor of Congress and the Republican party This decision is final And the Democracy, if they are sincere, must accept it as such, and must cease their opposition to it If they do this, the most disturbing questions in American politics are forever laid to rest for this plan carries with it is based upon, indeed the great principles of equal political rights and loyalty to the Government

BUTLER'S TRIUMPH Though we heartily wish Ben Butler had been defeated in the race he made for Congress, we are compelled to admire the completeness of his victory A good many outsiders went into his district to defeat him but he proved himself an overmatch for all of them He paid his compliments to Senator Fessenden in the following prescription for a Judicial conscience

R For making a Judicial conscience for a Senator in the impeachment trial—

Take Hatred to Ben Wade	5 parts
Envy and Opposition to Charles Sumner	8
Jealousy to Hannibal Hamlin	2

SOFT SHELL DOUGHNUTS A few days ago George S a salesman of renown having a Western customer in tow dropped into the Cafe Haven for lunch Boston cream cakes and coffee were ordered and discussed to the delight of the Western man to whom the cakes were a novelty and the quality of the [illegible] top, a surprise The next day he was eager to repeat his pleasant experiment and wanted George to lunch with him at the same place Arrived at the saloon and seated at the table the Hoosier summoned one of the attendant nymphs and said

We want strong coffee for two and and

but the word cream cakes had escaped his memory so turning to George he asked in a heavy aside which attracted the attention of the room

What's the name of those soft cakes we had yesterday George?

George whispered a word in his ear and he turned to the expectant damsel with

Strong coffee for two and a plate of them soft shell doughnuts! Commercial Bulletin

[illegible] MARKETS —We gather from the Commer [illegible] of San Francisco, several items of interest to [illegible] ing the markets

[illegible] ipts of certain articles of Oregon pro [illegible] 1st, 1868 to date have been as follows [illegible] flour, 87 892 ctls wheat 66 712 sacks [illegible] apples, 179 bbls and 5 064 hf bbls [illegible] 4,000 pkgs. bacon and hams 778 kegs lard [illegible] and pork 2,857 bbls, 4 352 hf bbls [illegible] salmon [illegible]

[illegible] at is yet well supplied both from Ore [illegible], with a good demand for all offer [illegible] still commanding $2 ⅌ ctl and that [illegible] is to arrive.

[illegible] and lard—Supplies from the north are [illegible] there continues to be a good interior [illegible] We quote Oregon sides at 13½@14c, [illegible] 18c, hams, 15@17c lard, 12½@13½c [illegible] and package

[illegible] ary lull in the supply of Oregon [illegible] prices in consequence appear to be har [illegible] ding the free local supplies Lard [illegible] with considerable old Eastern on [illegible] for beef and pork partakes largely of [illegible]

[illegible] Oregon salmon is observable [illegible] bls and 250 hf bbls, private the [illegible] at $7 50, the latter at $4 25 but now [illegible]

[illegible] —The consumptive demand has [illegible] greater than now, and the probabilities are [illegible] much larger proportion will be used than [illegible] giving encouragement to both the Califor [illegible] panies to prosecute their business [illegible] The sales include 1 000 bbls [illegible] at $3 50 The Oregon Roman [illegible] well spoken of by those who have given [illegible] which we quote at $3 50 ⅌ bbl

[illegible] —Shakspeare's greatest play— [illegible] last evening at Oro Fino Theater, [illegible] ulties of putting such a play on [illegible] creditably done Mr Bates Hamlet [illegible] It is a character to which [illegible] date justice and it is doubtful if [illegible] will play it up to Shakspeare s conception [illegible] Mr Bates rises in its execution far [illegible] of the men who have essayed it It is [illegible] an actor to say that he plays Hamlet [illegible] much more to say that he plays it well [illegible] is one of the best things we have [illegible] Her madness is so like the real article [illegible] full sympathy of the audience. In [illegible] we saw tears in many an eye not ac [illegible] by stage representations [illegible] was a very creditable performance [illegible] were passably well sustained [illegible] peated to night. It has never been so [illegible] as by this Company and we advise [illegible] that even those who have seen [illegible] actors of the age, will be agree [illegible] the merit of the performance

[illegible] —Revolutions never go backward [illegible] true in respect to newspapers as in [illegible] The late revolution in the Herald began [illegible] of a creditor followed by a [illegible] The creditor got the helm of [illegible] of two or three governors of [illegible] Prime Minister has gone to the [illegible] goes rolling on Beriah B. is no more [illegible] the weight of the new man Mr. Syl [illegible] is the span fire new Prime Minister—a [illegible] says) "comes to his post with [illegible] having had in early life an excellent ed [illegible] is a "sarkastic" cut at the late la [illegible] The revolution goes on

[illegible] —Madame Parepa-Rosa is an [illegible] A "child of nature" went to hear her [illegible] The child didn't like Rosa's style [illegible] like the artistic [illegible] of the [illegible] scientific scraping of the fiddler a dog [illegible] appeared to feel hurt because she was [illegible] s fiddle was bad in the bowels. I [illegible] pretty woman sing a good, old fashioned [illegible] natural way, instead of yelling a for [illegible] frills than a yard full of cats at [illegible] as for fiddling, I d sooner hear the Ar [illegible] than all that savage scraping My taste [illegible] and I hate airs, I do

[illegible] THE MATTER.—The editor of the Napa [illegible] cuss and withal ingenious—as a [illegible] for the late earthquakes thus [illegible] is that the late severe shocks at [illegible] were caused by an attempt on the [illegible] Eve to imitate the prevailing fashion [illegible] Grecian Bend—and that her effort to [illegible] is the true theory of the cause of earth [illegible] The only objection to the theory is that [illegible] prevailed to some extent before the "hump [illegible] was invented

[illegible] —A little boy of Mr Mayfield's nar [illegible] being killed, yesterday, by a wild cow, [illegible] being driven through the street by a butcher [illegible] a rope attached to the brute s horns but [illegible] her As she approached the child [illegible] at it, which was prevented from be [illegible] by the almost superhuman effort of the [illegible] animals should never be driven through [illegible] without ample precautions being taken to [illegible]

[illegible] A B Meacham and W Bowlby [illegible] for Presidential electors on the Union [illegible] for Salem by boat yesterday morning [illegible] of the Oregon City Enterprise was in [illegible], and gave us a call He reports every [illegible] in his part of the moral vineyard

[illegible], business manager of the Unionist and [illegible] of this office, called in upon us last [illegible]

[illegible] ASSOCIATION —This organization, [illegible] prospering finely The shares have all been [illegible] there is daily inquiry for them. There is [illegible] immediate prospect that the shares will be [illegible] This condition of things is partly due [illegible] the wise management of the Association [illegible] also, to the well established integrity of the [illegible] of the scheme

[illegible] MINK —We saw at the store of Kahn Bros [illegible] the skin of a white mink—almost as rare a [illegible] white blackbird It was caught in the Co um [illegible] Mr Kahn says he has handled perhaps a [illegible] thousand mink skins and he never saw but one [illegible] before this The fur is much coarser than the [illegible] and is of no great value except for its oddity

[illegible] —The bark Philipsburg left here yes [illegible] morning in tow by the steamer Okanagan for [illegible] where she is to complete her cargo for San [illegible] She took from here 1 583 sacks oats, 92 bags [illegible] flour 33 hlf bbls dried apples, 10 cases [illegible] salmon and a lot of hardwood lumber She [illegible] at Springville with oats

[illegible] —It is hoped that everybody will remember [illegible] to be given this evening at the vestryroom of [illegible] church, by the ladies of the congregation All [illegible]

[illegible] COURT —This Court convened yesterday [illegible] without transacting any business adjourn [illegible] day morning

[illegible] —The Ladies Relief Society will meet [illegible] of the Presbyterian Church at half past [illegible] this afternoon

Mr. Benj Thomas has the thanks of this office [illegible] of sweet cider manufactured at his apple [illegible]

COURT —The U S District Court yes [illegible], adjourned over till next Saturday morn [illegible]

[illegible] —A case of small pox is reported to exist [illegible] Ward

[illegible] thirty millions of bearing vines in [illegible] with a capacity of fifteen millions of [illegible] wine and one million gallons of brandy [illegible] the lowest estimate represents a yearly [illegible] 000,000

[illegible] ed gaiters, with the toes stitched [illegible] to look as if the foot was bare, are [illegible] to be the newest mode They are said [illegible] strikingly natural effect

[illegible] disturbed all the inmates of his [illegible] one day recently by imitating a [illegible] asked why he did it he said that he [illegible] by his physician to take port [illegible]

[illegible] for life" is the appropriate sub [illegible] Dickinson s lecture before the New [illegible] Woman's Society [illegible] Marlyn" is the title of Mrs Jane [illegible] story and it is to appear as a [illegible] (Minn) Journal.

GRANT AS A PROPHET —The Marquis de Chambron a French Republican of long standing in Washington, says that General Grant said to him four months ago

They may talk about the nomination of Chase Pendleton Hancock Hendricks—why not But the Democratic nominee will be Mr. H[illegible] Seymour

Further said Grant to the Marquis

The Republican party must not be trying to [illegible] in the Southern States to make them [illegible] Some Republicans [illegible] their votes is needed Sir the Democrats will carry these States any way The Republican party must make its great struggle between the Alleghanies and the Wabash River

The Democratic journals this morning and of Wednesday evening give a means to Grant to wean him from the Radicals of the Republican party The [illegible] says Ulysses S Grant President A [illegible] revocation of the foreest most frequent and most false libels ever put up on an inoffensive candidate degenerating to Hiram Ulysses and Simpson San [illegible] Cowardice, unatted go far her [illegible] begins I have no doubt that General Grant will reject the offensive and hasty promptings of the Radical wing of the Republicans But he will be even more independent of the Democracy and it will be the fault of the Senate if any collision happen over his appointments —W[illegible] Cor

A HUNDRED YEARS IN PRISON A certain house breaker was condemned in the latter part of the last century in France and under peculiar circumstances to a hundred years in the galleys and, strange to relate this man recently made his appearance in his own native province at the advanced age of one hundred and twenty years he being about twenty years of age when the sentence which condemned him to such dreadful punishment was passed It is difficult to conceive what the feelings must have been with which he returned as soon as emancipated from the shackles which had enthralled him for a century to breathe once more the cherished air of the scenes of his infancy Bourg in the department of Ain was his native home but time had so changed the aspect of the whole place, that he recognized it only by the church of Brun, which was the only thing which had undergone no change He had triumphed over laws, bondage, man, time—everything No relation had he left, not a single being could be hail in acquaintance, yet he was not without experiencing the homage and the respect the French pay old age For himself he had forgotten everything connected with his early youth even all recollection of the crime for which he had suffered was lost if at all remembered, it was a dreary vision confounded with a thousand other dreary visions of days long gone by His family connections for several generations, all dead—himself a living proof of the clemency of Heaven and the severity of man regretting perhaps the very irons which had been familiar to him, and half wishing himself again among the wretched and suffering beings with whom his fate had so long been associated—well might be be called the patriarch of burglars

WHITE PINE —Albert S Evans who has been to the newly discovered El Dorado, and is now on his way back telegraphs to the Alta from Grubb s Wells, Nevada, as follows

I have just reached here homeward bound having made a full examination of the White Pine mines Their richness is almost incredible silver being taken out by millions, and new discoveries are being made daily Parties came in on Tuesday from 65 miles south, reporting discoveries of silver deposits equal to White Pine The nights are cold and the days pleasant Stages are running regularly and the rush is immense exceeding the Washoe excitement Provisions are abundant A P Stanford Mark McDonald D F Loveland and other San Francisco capitalists, are investing immense sums in the purchase of mines, with a view to immediate work None should come unprovided with means to remain all winter as heavy snows are expected daily

Some poor, lone woman, in the Banner of Light makes this startling appeal to her oppressed sisters "Man's aggressive and propelling spirit has wrought for you no flowery bed of ease, his protection has legislated you into imbecility, above whose vortex you are being launched into a whirlpool of despair and horror, where you must awake to the cries of your suffering ones, appealing to you at least for succor And this comes by intrusting your God given right and heritage to your brother, regardless of the mandate, 'Be true to thyself' "

NIGHT SCHOOL —Mr. Fitzgerald has opened a Night School in the schoolhouse (up stairs) near the Catholic Church For Terms—See the Teacher

ARMED TO THE TEETH—Is a very common expression but we think armed to embellish and preserve them to a ripe old age is decidedly more beneficial and appropriate —this can only be done by keeping yourself always supplied with a bottle of that renowned and imperishable delight of every lady s or gentleman s toilet the fragrant Sozodont

Always ready for use SPALDING S GLUE

A distinguished Methodist Minister and prominent Temperance Lecturer once remarked that go where he would, from one end of the country to the other, he hardly ever failed to find PLANTATION BITTERS and while he condemned the practice of using these Bitters too freely he could not conscientiously say that he would discard them from the side board for he had himself experienced beneficial results from their use and that from a long and close observation he was convinced that when used moderately, and as a medicine exclusively they were all that was recommended At the same time he warned his hearers not to pull the cork too often for they were far too pleasant a tonic to trifle with

The Declining Year

The year begins to tremble with decay
Like an old man who leans upon a staff
And in a graveyard reads the epitaph
Of all his offspring who have passed away
But yet soft breezes with his thin locks play
Scattering his sadness with a [illegible] laugh
While the great sun yet warm [illegible]
And with his dart keeps Winter still at bay
Yes, soothed and flattered [illegible]
Though all the fields be bare and [illegible] are sere
Half hidden from his sight by thickening [illegible]
Serenely smiles the slow declining year
Like one who has in goodness spent his days
And waits his coming end without a fear

A Boston Copperhead writes to a Chicago paper of his ilk, describing how Connecticut was re[illegible] by the Republicans. He says the fine [illegible] rolled up for English last spring has been [illegible] all to pieces and a large majority for Grant substituted therefor. He explains how it was done. The last Legislature which was Republican, passed laws committing several outrages on the Democracy. One was restricting each Democrat so that he could vote but once, a second "outrage" was the prevention of Democratic aliens from voting "at all, at all." This was too bad. Why should those "illegant gintlemen" from Cork, who landed in America last summer, be prevented from voting for Seymour and Blair as often as they liked? Is this not a free country?

It is stated that ninety five per cent of the accidents arising from the explosion of double-barrelled guns are due to a defect in the left barrel, because the right is so much more frequently used. The discharge of the right barrel displaces the powder in the left, and leaves a space between the powder and the wadding. It is suggested that accidents would be generally prevented if the ramrod should be driven home with one or two smart blows into the non discharged barrel every time the other is reloaded.

It is expected that the Suez canal will be opened for vessels of the largest size in the course of October next. Its depth is twenty six feet and its width from 180 to 400 feet. Its cost will be about $80,000 000 and it will shorten the navigation between Europe and India one half. It belongs to a French joint stock company.

Gen Burbank, of the Freedmen's Bureau, Kentucky, closes up his last report as follows: "The total Bureau expenditures for the year were $115 400. The number of negroes murdered by the whites during the year was 26; rapes, 3; shot, 50; with other maltreated, 255."

Mr Zachariah Wi[illegible] Portland Oregon [illegible]

It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself during the stormy ordeal of all the experiments. Murray's Improved Magic Oil has stood the test of time and has not been found wanting. The astonishing efficacy that I experienced [illegible] of Chronic Rheumatism and Lumbago [illegible] entitles Dr Murray's Premium [illegible] Improved Magic Oil to a high rank [illegible] for Rheumatism [illegible] Sprains etc.

John English of Howell Prairie Marion county Oregon writes

I was taken with a severe attack [illegible] extremities [illegible] enough for two months so that I had to [illegible] without relief using all remedies [illegible] Magic Oil and Balsam gave [illegible] able to walk [illegible] days without [illegible] heumatic [illegible] ever [illegible] and [illegible] excellent [illegible] saying it is the best preparation for family [illegible] complaints [illegible] America after residing in Oregon twenty years [illegible] Balsam and two [illegible] Magic [illegible] dollar bottles [illegible] Oregon and I would [illegible] use and when this package of [illegible] ply.

OF THE

Weekly Oregonian.

FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor [illegible] highly identified with this city and State and [illegible] of its readers and its influence constantly increasing.

A [illegible] advocate of sound Union principles it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST but to every thing of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,

AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS

OF

Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

TELEGRAMS FROM THE EAST AND EUROPE

are published as full as in the California journals, and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are regular correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who having lived in this State are able to write on Eastern affairs both politically and commercially from an Oregon standpoint.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best sources.

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

are furnished every week giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware and General Market Reports of Portland and the latest reports by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These reports are acknowledged to be the most accurate published in the State.

In every department it will be as it has been the foremost in the State in the field of journalism. Being firmly established it will go forward with confidence, making new plans for improvement and usefulness and hopes to gain increased circulation and support.

TERMS:

One Year	$3 00.
Six Months	2 00.
Three Months	1 00.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been a favorite paper for mailing to friends in the East. It will be mailed from the office at subscription rates.

Subscribers will find on each paper, with their names, the date on which their subscriptions expire, as entered on our books. In renewing, the name of subscriber and post office should be distinctly written.

All papers are discontinued at the end of the time for which they have been paid, the date of which is always printed with the name each week.

REMIT BY MAIL AT OUR RISK in presence of Postmaster, or pay to the nearest authorized agent.

We ask our friends to aid us in extending the circulation of the OREGONIAN in every direction.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, cough, consumption, night sweats, mon mania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and being too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tin smiths, shoe makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
